Comments: My Last Comment,

The last few years in Whittier, the recreational use of snowmachines have motored right past closed signs, under the gate on the reservoir road with no snow, across the creek and damaged the boardwalk going up to Horsetail Falls to reach the snow. One machine went off the cliff above Second Salmon Run and was left in the area, only taking parts of the sled that they could carry out. If this is any sign of things to come, citizens of Whittier don't want to see any more devastation. They seem to not want to contribute to the local economy either by buying some food or their fuel.
