Comments: As a US citizen, who has visited Alaska two times to the Cordova area, I oppose the revision plan that you have proposed. I believe that the existing protections are sufficient and that your plan will compromise the beauty and environmental integrity of the Chugach region into perpetuity.

This region is a pristine area of millions of acres of forest, wilderness and natural rivers, glaciers and mountains. Why would you want to potentially scar and damage this God made wilderness for a small economic gain? This economic gain will mean great loss to mankind and our already damaged planet earth.

Please leave things the way that they are. For the sakes of our children and grandchildren.

Thanks for listening,

Carl Cole
