Dear Colville National Forest Plan Revision Team,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the revised Colville National Forest Plan.

As an aging hiker, I am more and more aware of the need in humans for wild places.

Washington is blessed so many wild places, but as the world becomes more urbanized and our population grows, we need more of them than ever. Please consider the possibility of creating more than you had planned for the sake of future generations.

Sincerely,

Lee mohler
