Ms. Kraus -

Thank you for notifying us about the problem accessing our web page. The Colville Plan Revision Comment Page and Reading Room are experiencing a high volume of visits these last few days of the comment period. If you or your members are having trouble logging in to submit or read comments, please note that you have other options for submitting comment letters; you could email a comment into the project inbox, or by postal mail (must be postmarked by July 5), or come back and try again later. With the increased traffic in the database, it will take the system longer to process and upload letters into the reading room.

Comments may be submitted electronically by sending them to our Email Correspondence inbox:
colvilleplanrevision@fs.fed.us <mailto:colvilleplanrevision@fs.fed.us>

Or by sending paper copies of the comments to (mailed comments must be post-marked no later than July 5, 2016):

Subject: Comment site down

Just a heads up that the comment system for the Colville NF Plan appears to be down. We have received emails from our members that they were not able to upload their comments. Please send me an update on when the site is back up so we can alert our members. Thank you!
