Comments: Stop closing access for multi-use - roads and trails.

I have snowmobiled, dirt biked, hunted and 4wheeled these areas for 40 + years in Gallatin county. The Forest Service has (closed) roads and trails in most of the Gallatin (Wilderness Study Areas). The policy of the Forest Service has been to (close) these areas to historic use which was never the intent of congress when the Wilderness Study Act was passed. The Act states that "the use that was allowed at time of designation would remain" but over time this use and our enjoyment of these areas has been removed or severely restricted. The time has come to return these lands to the majority of people and provide access - for multi-use.
