

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 7/23/2016 7:19:20 PM

First name: louise

Last name: kane

Organization:

Title:

Comments: No timber sales in Tongass or Wrangel please

I am very much opposed to logging in the Wrangel or in the Tongass. Habitat loss and forest fragmentation are killing entire watersheds and the wildlife that depend on them. The Alexander Archipelago wolf exists inly in a few areas and has precipitously low populations, I am sickened to think about the impact this will have on that tiny population.

It's time to protect the natural assets that make Alaska great instead of squandering them. People visit Alaska for the wild, for the beauty for the experience. None of that is relevant in a scorched earth environment with more logging, more roads and no wildlife.

Louise Kane, JD

Eastham, MA