Comments: Every time the FS tries to harvest timber they end up in court delayed years by the Greenies who feel cutting any tree is endangering some species.

In the end this is causing way more damage then good to the environment and those species living in it.

There needs to be a mechanism developed that allows the FS to do their job. They cannot do the job if they are continually in court defending their position.

For example look at the current situation with the proposed harvest up Hylite Creek and Bear Creek to protect the watershed. It's nuts.
