Comments: If not bison, which ran free in the millions- then WHO, are so few in numbers now, to justify the listing as a species (population) of concern? (!!!)

As we lose the planet's biodiversity at such an alarming rate over decades now, due to humans and the effect we have on the environment ,primarily degrading and fragmenting the environment all around us [ndash] it seems that the icon of the American West , or more precisely an icon of this entire country as bison were as far as Oklahoma and other states and so therefore must be protected in every way possible especially by the forest service as requested now
