Comments: I live in Scotland with my family, including a boy of 12 who is a very keen skier / ski racer. We are not blessed with the conditions you get in Vail, and so visit Vail at least twice a year during the ski season (and have done every year for the last 10 years, as well as some summers). SSCV kindly allows my son to train with them when he is in Vail. The facility on offer at Golden Peak is good, but as we have raced more in Europe this year we have noticed how many other places are also "good", for Vail to remain a world class destination for ski racing / training it needs to continue to develop. Visiting ski racers contribute to the local economy (and often spread that benefit as they stay away from the most expensive central hotels etc), provide repeat business, early season business, and enhance the reputation of an area.

We love Vail, one of the best things about it is the ability to develop and still retain an environmental balance. We believe this development does that, and is an important part of the development of the mountain, that will enhance the experience, and also provide a greater level of safety to trainees and the public. We whole heartedly support it.

Kind regards

Jason
