Comments: The South Fork, is an amazing river whose beauty and awe is hard to capture in words. Having traveled the world whitewater kayaking, I can tell you that I have seen many beautiful rivers, and with that said I have also seen the destruction that can be done to these rivers by man. The south fork is one of the most beautiful untouched rivers in the us and the world that I have seen and I truly believe it should stay that way. The short term financial benefit does not outweigh the potential environmental risk that will be there for a long time and remain a risk for years to come after they have moved on.
