Comments: Our Family has had a cabin in the Eleven Mile Village area since the early 80s and I would have to agree that the trees and undergrowth need to be thinned out. Some of it has already taken place in some areas and it looks much better except for one thing that we have heard other neighbors bring up also. It is that a lot of uprooted stumps are left behind. The tree trunks and branches are either hauled off or burned but the stumps are just left laying around. There are places that you can stand in one spot and see many many uprooted stumps. It seems like there should be some way to get rid of most of these too?

Example: I believe that FS road 251 East off of Rt 92 is an example of this that can be seen right from the road.
