Comments: no more leases for drilling on government land until the fees rise to reflect the value of the extracted resources

To Whom It May Concern:

Resource extraction from federal lands is being done for fees established in the 1870s, which are by now nominal. I do not support any further exploratory drilling or extraction of any kind until the law is updated. As it stands, the American People are being robbed, and a source of legitimate funding for our government is being neglected due to ridiculously low fees. Our national heritage is being despoiled for profit at the expense of every citizen.

Sincerely,

Andrea Volckmar
