

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 4/22/2018 1:19:55 PM

First name: Kevin

Last name: Oldham

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Fracking requires removing enormous amounts of water from watersheds, which coupled with spills, leaks and well failures, could taint and degrade precious mountain streams, including several inhabited by the Lahontan cutthroat trout - a species protected under the federal Endangered Species Act as threatened. The Forest Service should be restoring watersheds to help recover threatened species, not pushing them closer to extinction.