Comments: I am very excited about this project both as a resident of Arrowhead and an instructor in the Beaver Creek Ski and Snowboard School. We are desperate for more beginner terrain and this seems like an excellent place to expand. There were very few details in the electronic information about the skier services building. As a 44 year veteran of teaching skiing I can tell you the needs of the beginner skier to rest comfortably, have access to water and warm beverages and food during the learning experience is essential. Beginner skiers work hard when learning the sport and expend a lot of energy. The altitude adds to fatigue. Please don't overlook the basic needs of these skiers and require them to waste lesson time to travel to a lodge away from this amazing teaching terrain. I am concerned that the skier services building will be designed for the use of the ski patrol with our guests being an after thought. Please put these skiers to the forefront of this project and insure they will have a warm comfortable place to recharge.
