Comments: I don't agree with this project whatsoever. This area already sees enough activity in the winter and these "improvements" will only cause more disturbance through the rest of the year. This area is an important calving/fawning area for our local wildlife which has been in decline for many years. There is really no good reason to open the area up to ski lifts, access roads, and whatever else Vail Resorts would like to put up there. Leave the area as is and open to cross country skiing and snowshoeing with no lift access. This is a unique area of the mountain with few people and access to peace and quiet. Adding a lift and all that comes with that would ruin an experience that is lacking at most resorts. Just because it is close to the mountain does not mean it needs to be exploited. Keep development out of McCoy Park.
