Comments: I have visited this area a couple of times for absolutely wonderful adventure riding and I enjoy seeing parts of the Southern Arizona landscapes by off-road motorcycle that are not feasible by hiking. This new trail system would be one more excellent reason come down again! Each time I go, I stay at decent Tucson hotels, like the Loews Ventana, and spend about $800 to $1500 in lodging, food, gas and entertainment. Believe it or not, I'm also an environmentalist, but not an extreme one. I believe in responsible land use for the mutual benefit of all lifeforms on earth. And I think having this trail system is part of it. It will also give irresponsible off-road riders one less reason to go off established trails and damage fragile ecosystems. Please, approve the Tumacacori trail system!
