Comments: I am concerned with the watershed area and how it will effect fish and plants. You think that salmon overall will be impacted, except for pinks which will increase. I believe that this could be devastating since acidity can damage the eggs and breeding. I also have noted that I am seeing some plants in Alaska (South Central) which have not been here before. I also saw some hummingbirds this summer! Since I teach in Kotzebue for 10 months, my largest concern is for those people who are natives and subsistence hunt. If game cannot find food, their way of life will be seriously impacted. I am not sure how we can change this but firmly believe that if we clean up our oceans and plant trees that we can reverse this process.
