Comments: I am a CO native who enjoys hiking in the forest. I think it would be best to not allow exploration for well sites within the boundaries of our national forests. I'm a supporter of energy independence for the US, but would prefer we move to nuclear power plants rather than drill for oil and gas. Our wonderful forests are essential for refuge from a busy, urban world we live in, and I think it's important to preserve places in their natural state, as much as feasible. Thanks,
