Comments: I know this is more than one question, but the questions vary, depending on each answer

I know the burros in Goodsprings/Wilson area were 3 in 2006 and 7 in 2013, I wouldn't consider this area of the HMA heavily populated with burros. I have never seen one in the Bird Springs area. I know there used to be some on the NW side of Potosi. I know some were gathered during 2006 and haven't been up there that often to know any current population. I know Three Amigos and Jenny move back and forth between Goodsprings and Wilson. I know there are a few (?) near Cave Springs, but no recent (past year) signs.

What percentage of the Red Rock burro population is north of highway 160? South of highway 160?

How many burros are going to be removed from the southern area?

If none are, and the numbers are dramatically different, could a jenny be placed in the southern area?
