Comments: I wish to voice my opposition to oil and gas drilling on public lands. The federal government has a responsibility to protect public lands for the long-term common good. Oil and gas drilling have been proven to disturb the land and its inhabitants. Certainly, leakage of benzene, toluene, methylene chloride and other chemicals in fracking fluid are harmful to the land.
I strongly believe that the people's right to health and safety supersede all other concerns. The environmental impact of oil and gas drilling is extremely negative. I urge you to protect the public lands from that harm. Thank you.
