Comments: I don't have much to say about this project cause I understand there's a lot more to it than just saying ok go ahead and start building, but what I can say is that I've fell in love with snowboarding again after not doing it for some time but this place has changed me the past 3 years of my life. I absolutely love being able to get away from Las Vegas & be away from everyone & the bustling city. I would love to see this project go through to see the ski resort benefit from this cause it is getting a lot more popular now & sometimes they can't deal with the large crowds or sometimes the slopes are packed, I also look off into the canyon & see so much more potential, bottom line I love this place & would love to see it grow for the better while respecting the environment & nature, thank you
