Comments: Hi I would like to first say that we own a cabin on the Stanislaus national forest in Cowcreek California. The main reason we bought this cabin was to access the forest via snowmobiles, we love this forest and all it has to offer. I have recently learned that 85% of the Stanislaus is wilderness we only have 15% to ride our snowmobiles. I believe nothing should be changed with the Maps we have adequate areas to ride at this time. My favorite areas are the Hearing Creek Loop, Castle Ridge all the way to Pinecrest peak, The meadows are very fun and a great place for youngsters to learn how to ride ythese machines I also ride Eagle Meadows and the highway four Corredor including Highland Lakes and Pacific valley. These are supposed to be our lands and I believe nothing should be changed these other people that oppose us have plenty of places to do their cross country skiing and snowshoeing without being bothered by us
