Comments: The Forest Service's draft plan for management of over-snow vehicles (OSVs) on Stanislaus National Forest, proposes to permit snowmobile use in Carson-Iceberg and Emigrant Wilderness areas. I DISAGREE WITH THIS PROPOSAL, as these areas are currently closed to motorized use. There is an extensive network of logging and other roads throughout these forests and other nearby national forests that are available for use, and adding Carson-Iceberg and Emigrant Wilderness areas is unnecessary. Wilderness areas should be kept wild! Those who wish to explore these areas should be able to do so in peace and quiet, causing only reduced impacts to wildlife and the habitat. Thank you for your consideration.
