Comments: Hi,

As an outdoor enthusiast, I love being in the National Forest and Wilderness areas year round. It is scary when cross country skiing to encounter snow mobiles which also create conditions that hamper quieter pursuits. I see you have many, many statements from CSERC, Backcountry Skiers, The Audubon Society and others which I am sure make the case in a much more nuanced way than I could. I write to say I am for limiting snow-mobile traffic as much as possible, especially in areas with sensitive environments, so that we and generations beyond ours can enjoy the forest.

Thanks,

Rev. Sonya Sukalski
