Comments: Me and my family have been snowmobiling hwy 4 and hwy 108 for 30+ Years. I don't see what the problem is all of a sudden. Snowmobiles ride on top of the snow and don't hurt anything. We don't ride in the dirt or dig threw the snow 2 the dirt.

As far as the the near natural areas go they should remain open 2 snowmobiles/snowbike.

All near natural areas on 108 from pinecrest to the top of Sonora pass need 2 remain open for osv use. This includes Herring loop,eagle meadows,long valley, silver mines,and mill creek,etc.

As far as Hwy 4 is considered this needs 2 be remain opened from Bear Valley to highway 395. Pacific valley,highlands lake and all areas in between. Bear trap and jelmini also should not be closes 2 osv use..

Me and a few buddy's were riding this area one day and a big storm came in. There was 3 older lady's skiing that were completely lost. If it wasn't for us on are snowmobiles being there 2 save them and give them rides back 2 there cabin who knows what would ave happened 2 them. They were so grateful.

Just imagine if we weren't there!!!
