Comments: Being able to snowmobile here has changed my life I now can appreciate the mountain more it's kept me more active and gives me something to look forward to every year

It seems like more and more regulation are limiting what people are capable of doing while it doesn't seem like much but I know being able to responsibly use this area makes me happier in my day to day and pushes me to work harder and to be a good citizen and person to others so this area makes more of an impact on who I am and how I treat others for the better. Without this I know I will have less things to look forward to and makes life a little harder.
