Comments: The public lands are a great treasure to are beautiful republic.there is plenty of land for all hobby's and people to have there space. In the past 15 years the majority of tax payers access to public land has dramatically ben cutt. This is just another land grab. There are already millions of acres designated wilderness, monument, or non motorized use.it is a very small percentage of people who can walk more than a mile or cross county ski that distance especially in the snow to access most of the land that is trying to be restricted to non motorized use.This beautiful public asset. That should be able to be accessed by the majority and most need some sort of motorized assistance.My grandfather's 92 and during the Obama administration he signed are favorite hunting area into national monument. Now we don't hunt it anymore he cannot walk miles in to hunt. Same with this situation several older people could sled into these places and enjoy there beauty but they will not be able to walk in there.Snowmobilers have made compermizes in the past on this area in question. To try to make every one happy. That is impossible because the green army of environmentalist believe they have the moral high ground and to do whatever it takes to stop people like me from accessing and enjoy the outdoors.They have no tolerance or true diversity they only want people who think and believe like them to have access. I believe there should be motorized and non motorized area so we both can enjoy the outdoors In The way we prefer. Thier is already millions of acres for them to do that.I just ask that you let use keep are slice of heaven. Because I look foward every year of loading the sleds and heading south to enjoy the sierras. My hope is I will be able to take my daughter with me when shes old enough!

Thanks Jack
