Thank you for opening up the public fourm. I have been living in in Alaska for 26 years and accessing the chugach for 20 years. I snowmobile, xc ski hike fish and camp in the chugach. I snowmobile grand view, lost lake, Carter, resurrection, Summit,turnagain pass, Placer, squirrel flats and Nellie jaun . The majority of these areas will not be used if reduced or shut down. My wife and I spend months in the winter exploring areas we would only ever seen by airplane. I believe that there should not be a reduction in areas but increased areas. The more areas open mean more accessible areas for other winter sports. Better access bringing in EMT'S. I saw first hand the importance of having timely search and rescue by snowmobiles when the helicopters cannot fly. Also bring in EMT'S by snowmobile so they can tell life flight where to land.

Thanks you for taking your time to read this. I can see how plan but b is our best choice. I would like to see more access for future generations.
