

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/24/2018 1:35:50 AM

First name: Sterling

Last name: Speight

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Alaskans have respected the public use land for so many years and for you to take it away would be just wrong. There is so much fun and excitement to be had in the winter months, wether its snowmachining,snowboarding,skiing, hiking, the list goes on. We as Alaskans need these areas to explore and to get outside and enjoy them rather than sit inside wondering where we are supposed to enjoy winter recreation. I have tons of respect for the U.S. Forest Service and the things you do but trying to take away certain recreational areas isn't right.