Comments: As someone who is brand new to this area and Alaska I don't have a ton of insight into this national forest area and how the land should be zoned. However coming from Colorado and being an avid outdoor enthusiast, I am truly amazed by the snow machine community here in Alaska. From my limited talks with this group they have been extremely knowledgeable about this planned revision project. Having no input myself, I feel that what the community is suggesting has to be the right move and is the best for all parties involved.
