Comments: I don't believe that anymore restrictions are needed due to the fact we already have fairly strict areas as is to protect the land. A couple examples are Lost Lake and how it doesn't open until there is a certain amount of snow. Or Turnagain Pass and how you can only snow machine on one side. There are countless examples I can state here. Overall the bigger picture is that it would hurt our economy as well. Because the more restrictions there are the less people are going to ride which in turn hurts the small businesses that rely on the revenue brought in by this industry.
