Comments: I am opposed to development or high-impact use of primal forests. We live in an era of diminishing diversity of our ecosystems which if left to continue will be a severe loss to future generations. Pristine wilderness is a precious treasure, it is what makes America distinct from Europe and so many over-developed areas of the world. We must protect it at all costs. The hidden benefits of preserving wilderness far outweigh short-term, unsustainable exploitation benefits. It simply makes no sense to destroy such valuable rarity for the enrichment of a few. Please act to protect forests and wilderness with every means available.

Sincerely,

-Randy Nichols
