Comments: The Ranchers, big Agriculture, Corporate farms, Cattle industry, developers, Fossil Fuel Industry, and hunting industry all have their lobbyist in Washington DC to bribe their corrupt politician sociopaths to kill off the wolves because no one was interest in the health of Nature or a balanced Eco System. The rich and their corrupt politicians only believe in money and power.

They will use the Department of the Interior and Department of Fish and Wildlife Service to do the killing along with psychotic sociopath hunters who enjoy killing animals. Bears Wolves, Coyotes, and Mountain Lions are Killed in and out of National Parks because a tourist had an encounter with one of these animals, and the USFWS, Department of the Interior, state FWS and Forestry Services kill the animal just so that the frightened tourists can feel that they are safe from the pesky animals and feel it is okay to keep spending money in the Federal and State National Parks.

The Wyoming FWS is already set to kill four grizzly bears in Grand Teton National Park because they ruined some rich snobs chances of getting a trophy Elk. This is how an Oligarchy works, the rich buy elections and use the entire country as if they own everything, and are not fans of Wildlife unless they need a trophy to hang in their library, they are not fans of nature, unless they need a river or lake to dump the toxic waste from their factories.

The U.S. FWS is going to have many Grizzly Bears killed in Yellowstone National Park also because Grizzly Bears may also endanger hunters killing Elk there. The reason for killing Elk in Yellowstone is because the Government set up an Elk feeding area to keep Elk alive during the harsh winters. The same scenario is going on in Alaska, there are more and more people moving to Alaska because they want to live off the grid. The problem is they are killing off the predators around where they build their homes, and some start killing animals for fur some they have money to live.

Now the problem created by the Government is here are too many Elk in Yellowstone and they have to be thinned out. So now they want the FWS to thin out the Elk population and kill Grizzlies so that hunters will not be in danger when killing Elk. Alaska will fallow suit, when it becomes so over run by people and the wildlife some day will be put on the endangered list to protect them from people who by nature will kill predators to the point of extinction, because of people who kill for enjoyment and hired hunters both private and government to kill off animals for business interests.

So basically what the Government is stating is that it is all right to have Wildlife as long as they do not interfere with tourists and the Government is making money from trophy hunters in the parks, they say is for the preservation of Wildlife and a healthy Eco System. This is how the government Wildlife management systems works and the FWS in each state is there for the rich incase some of the Wildlife becomes a bother, they can bribe the Department of the Interior, Wildlife committee politicians, and the USFWS to kill off whatever Wildlife they don't like.
