Comments: I support option B! Let the people of Alaska speak for our land, you cannot go off of people who live outside the state that most likely have never seen these areas or have been to Alaska. If you put the right rules in place everyone can keep enjoying this land for years to come and keep using there recreational vehicles there! Do not let the tree huggers that will put there 2 cents in win. No matter what happens they will never visit it will never affect them it will affect the business's in Alaska and the people of Alaska
