Comments: First I'd like to say that I truly love the Chugach. It's what made me fall in love with this state. From fishing and hunting to gold mining and snow machining. It's beauty and grease is endless. One of the biggest problems we have in this state is access to areas that simply can't be gotten to on foot or even by atv. Having the opportunity to see the Chugach in ways we'd never get to with out the ability to ride on snow machines. They have the ability to go places we could only dream of and are a traditional in this beautiful states. Imagine alaska with out them. Sure wouldn't be the same. Any decrease in the riding areas we do have would truly be a stab in the heart to those of us that love the ride. I would suggest plan b or c. And strongly suggest to listen to the residents of this great state and not those that don't reside here. They should have no say or input.
