Comments: Growing up in Alaska i have always had the amazing opportunity to explore this amazingly beautiful state. Both summer and winter i am able to go deep into the Alaskan wilderness and find the peace that the wilderness provides. Having the opportunity during the winter to snow machine to places that people have never scene is where i find myself at 100% peace. Being able to look upon this beautiful state and take it all in. Some of my greatest memories have been out exploring. Please keep this open for use. This is something that has been placed into every alaskans bones being able to explore this beautiful land.
