I was born and raised in Alaska. I grew up riding snowmobiles with my family since I was a toddler. Snowmobiling to me is a huge part of my life and my families life. I spend a lot of money to support local businesses to continue advancing my passion of riding. This measure threatens my way of life as well as many other Alaskans. I grew up riding all over alaska from lost lake all the way up to eureka and summit lake. In the winter time when there is snow, I tend to ride 3-4 times a week, and 5-10 times a month. Alaska doesn't need anymore restrictions on motorized use. The last thing Alaska needs is more government restrictions on motorized recreation.
