Comments: In regards to plans C & D, I strongly oppose these plans and any further restrictions regarding the use of motorized vehicles in Alaska. I believe that the current maps are already far too restrictive, and this proposal to change only makes it worse. I am a live long Alaska resident, born and raised. This is my home and I love it. I grew up in Cordova. The most significant reason for choosing to remain in Alaska is having freedoms we have to explore, whether motorized or not. For some people, including myself, it's often the only means available to reach certain subsistence hunting and trapping areas in a safe manner. Everything in this modern era has been changing, and Alaska is slowly losing the very things that make it "The Last Frontier". I can only offer support for Option B at this point. Option C and D are absolutely unacceptable. I'd rather choose Option Z where your entire little branch of government be disbanded. The amount of restrictions are already terrible, and while there have been some who abused the lands, the vast majority of all in the offroad recreation communities are responsible and care for the land. I've often seen areas cleaned by offroad motorized recreational users after non-motorized users left trash because they didn't want to carry it out with them.
