Comments: My name is Jacob Ohms and I am a life long Alaskan.

I've grown up exploring Alaska and enjoying all of the outdoor opportunity's that come with being from here.

I am a public employee which has helped me explore a wide area of the state. I've lived in Anchorage, Fairbanks, Soldotna and Kenai. I currently live in Girdwood which will be my home for the rest of my life.

The national forest means everything to me and loosing access to any of it will be detrimental to not only me but everyone that calls Alaska their HOME. I am a skier first and foremost but I use motorized access to make it to harder to reach places. Loosing access will make it much more difficult to see and enjoying this land.

Everyone should be good stewards to the land. If access is denied then what is the point of having this land? How will people be able to go and see the land? Why would they care if its their land but they never get to see or enjoy it?

Please to not block access to OUR land. Its everyone's to cherish and enjoy.

Respectfully,

Jacob Ohms
