Comments: To whom it may concern,

I have lived in Alaska since 1983. My family moved up here because the work was good and the state was growing fast. I was just 8 years old at the time but I remember how excited I was to be here. The beauty of this state is incomparable to anything that I had ever seen. My dad loves to take us fishing and get us outdoors as much as possible. We would go where ever we could to get away from the city and be out in the wilderness. When I got older I was able to get my first snow machine. It was such an awesome feeling and rush to be able to go up into some of these mountains and see places I only dreamt about. There is no other feeling like it. Some of my favorite places to ride are turnagain and lost lake. I have a pretty busy work schedule but when I do get the time off I'm always looking to go south and do some riding.

With some of these new proposed plans you would be taking away the few things I love most living in this state. Right now it is hard enough to find good areas to ride with the current regulations that are all ready in place. If anything we should be opening more areas for people to be able access. My vote would be for plan B or not changing anything at all. There are just too many lives, businesses, communities that would be negatively impacted if you were to go with plan C or D. I hope you guys make the right decision. Thank you for your time.
