Comments: United States Forest land is intended for public use; last time I checked, I and those who ride snowmobiles with me, pay taxes and should be allowed to use those lands responsibly without restriction. We are in danger, not only as a sport, but as a country, of over reacting to the poor choices of a few bad apples. We can not, as a people and as a country, allow for the will of a few tyrants to encringe on the rights of the many, simply because they do not prefer them, or their sport.
