

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/30/2018 2:10:14 AM

First name: John

Last name: Govette

Organization:

Title:

Comments: I am very against taking away snowmobiling rights in the Chugach area.

In such a vast area I don't believe starting splitting up who can use what Area for certain sports is a bit silly.

It only opens up the flood gates to labeling everything and that is not what a free nation like the USA is supposed to be about.

Snowmobiles help folks who possibly can't easily recreate because of Age or disability, snowmobiling allows the public to keep an Eye on 100's of 1000's of acreage for threats and keeping an eye

For stranded hikers, backcountry skiers, downed aircraft, forest fires and Many other things.

I travel to the Chugach once a year for snowmobiling and backcountry

Snowboarding/splitboarding and I sure would be unhappy to see forest rules

Start splitting up the land for certain uses.

Always hear from cross country skiers how they like using our tracks on the trail and on more than one occasion have brought back an injured or extremely tired

Human powered person because their eyes were bigger than their legs or they didn't

Pack enough provisions/food.