Comments: The importance of the outdoors is crucial to myself and my family. We spend countless hours and days in the backcountry. And we enjoy motorized recreation. It's important to keep the area open to motorized use for the recreation of all users. This is a right as an American citizen no matter who you are. We need to fight to preserve these areas but closing to mechanized use is NOT the answer. The answer is enforcing responsible use. This land or our land and it should be preserved for other generations to use and recreate on. Make a plan that helps enforce responsible use and not close out mechanized use. We can all come together and responsibly use the land at stake. Closing this area is not the answer. I am a motorized user and when i visit these areas it brings money to the surrounding community and helps fund projects to protect the land and not close it.
