Comments: I am writing in support of the snowmaking expansion. As a skier who has been concerned about the future of the sport, especially with the last few warmer seasons, this would create a much better experience.

As a beginner skier, I would feel safer skiing Golden Peak (which could be opened during a low snow year) - as supposed to uploading and downloading the busy Gondola One. From what I have read, this expansion would also aid snowmaking efforts since it would be at higher elevations. I think that new snowmaking systems need to be put in place.
