Comments: To whom it may concern,

I am grateful to have called Alaska home the entirety of my life. Rachel, my wife and adventure partner, and i are fortunate to often recreate in the Chugach. I became concerned earlier today reading about the potential of further restrictions to the forest. The majority of our time spent in the Chugach is non-motorized recreation, however we appreciate the option to use snowmachines in the winter to access diverse terrain and as a safety measure when we are remote in the mountains. I am specifically opposed to alternatives C & D of the revision. While we most often back-country ski and hike without motorized assistance, it is important to me to have the option to access this same terrain using a motorized tool (snowmachine). Thank you for your time - Mack.
