Comments: We need to keep the lands open for motorized use. Riding to many is the best and only outlet they have to combat depression in the long dark months of winter up here in Alaska. Some people drink, smoke, do drugs, and some choose to ride their Snowmachine's and enjoy all that this great land has to offer. If you take away the lands, you take away a part of our souls and doom us to sitting on the couch and passing the time with drug use instead of wide open throttles. Please don't punish us by closing down the one thing we look forward too when the snow begins to fly. Let us smile and enjoy our winter as we get to experience places and things other people will more than likely ever be able to do.
