Comments: I am a lifelong resident of the state, born in Fairbanks and living in the south central area my entire life. I am currently raising 3rd generation Alaskans. I snowmachine frequently in the CNF with friends and family. It's one of my favorite winter activities and I look forward to the day my children are old enough to snowmachine there with me, something that is being threatened by potential unjust and unfair policy changes such as alternatives C & D. While I look forward to passing down my love of snowmachining to my children, and am thrilled to be seeing huge improvements snowmachine manufacturers are making in terms of quieter, more fuel efficient and cleaner machines, I am extremely concerned by the idea of cutting back accessible terrain as with changing weather temperatures & conditions we are often already limited in our options. These alternatives do not address or take into consideration those issues.

I feel very strongly that plan B is the most fair to all parties, but could still use some more input and adjustments.
