Comments: I am a life long Alaskan that has been accessing the Chugach for most of those years. I love the outdoors and all the possibilities we have to enjoy them in this great state. I spend a lot of that time snowmachining and snowboarding around grand view, Spencer glacier, Turnagain pass, and resurrection pass. I think it would be great if we could open these areas up some more to snow vehicles. They are the only way to really access this great back country area and to limit them any more would be a shame. I have children now and would like to be able to keep showing them this great area for years to come.
