Comments: I have been recreating in the Chugach my entire life. I was born and raised in Chugiak Alaska and grew up snowmachining, hiking, fishing, 4 wheeling, dirt biking and hunting here. I ride in this area all winter long and am strongly opposed to losing snowmachine access to terrain of the keno peninsula and therefore plan C and D are unacceptable. The snowmachine industry and community have made huge strides in cleaner quieter more environmentally responsible equipment and practices. Recent winters have made for less rideable areas, it would be a shame to lose any more riding areas. Riding snow machines has helped many people get rescued in the Chugach, I have personally used it to help injured people out of turn again pass. There are already rules in lace preventing motorized use until there is sufficient snow cover in these areas, more restrictions are unnecessary and inappropriate and will be detrimental to winter recreation in this great state
