Comments: As, a mountain biker, hiker and avid outdoorsman this seems like a great opportunity to add more mountain biking opportunities to some beautiful country. Mountain biking in an area like this will cause minimal impact on the environment and bring more awareness and environmental conciousness by getting more people out to appreciate our wilderness. Too often mountain bikers are blamed for causing wear and tear on our trails. My years of experience would suggest that horses are much harder on trails than mountain bikes. Please consider creating more mountain biking opportunities in this beautiful area.
